NESEC's GLOBE Observer Team Joins Earth School

Earth School is a series of lessons and activities at a range of grade levels to connect students to the outdoors and support distance learning in a safe way during the global pandemic. It is a collaboration of more than 50 environmental and education experts organized under TEDEd and the UN Environment Program.

In June 2020, GLOBE Observer Land Cover and Mosquito Habitat Mapper were selected as a citizen science project in Earth School through SciStarter.
